Hiring Manager

Ontario, Canada

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Software Developer position with your company. With a robust background in full-stack web development, mobile app creation, and game development, both through formal education and independent practical experience, I bring a creative, solution-oriented mindset and a strong drive for innovation to every project I take on.

Most recently, as a Full-Stack Software Engineer at Step Sciences, I designed and deployed high-traffic RESTful APIs and developed full-stack applications using React, Firebase, and Flask. My contributions reduced manual workflow errors by 90% and boosted operational efficiency by 60%. I also collaborated closely with the CTO and Security Engineers to ensure our applications scaled securely and effectively as the company grew.

As a student tutor and program support assistant at George Brown College, I developed a Discord bot that automated FAQs and deadline reminders—enhancing communication for over 200 students and reducing faculty outreach by 20%. These experiences reflect not only my technical skill set but also my ability to identify pain points and proactively create solutions. My toolkit includes modern technologies such as React, Node.js, Python, Flutter, Firebase, MongoDB, and Docker. I'm passionate about crafting efficient and maintainable systems. I am confident my experience, collaborative nature, and hunger for growth make me a strong fit for your team.

I am particularly interested in working for you because I want to be at the cutting edge of software development and industry technology. I will work harder than anyone else to get there, and be a doubtless asset to your company.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to your mission. Thank you for considering my application. I've attached my resume for your review, and I look forward to connecting with you.

Sincerely,

Ethan Sylvester
